Deliverance at Cardwell Ranch & A Woman With a Mystery B. J. Daniels 2014-11-25 In "Deliverance at Cardwell Ranch," deputy sheriff Austin Cardwell rescues a woman with no memory of who she is during a blizzard, and in "A Woman with a Mystery," Holly Barrows returns to Slade Rawlins after mysteriously vanishing claiming to have been kidnapped.

The House On Fripp Island Rebecca Kauffman 2020-06-02 A taut, page-turning novel of secrets and strife. When two families—one rich, one not—vacation together off the coast of South Carolina, little do they know that someone won't be returning home. Fripp Island, South Carolina is the perfect destination for the wealthy Daly family: Lisa, Scott, and their two girls. For Lisa's childhood friend, Poppy Ford, the resort island is a world away from the one she and Lisa grew up in—and when Lisa invites Poppy's family to join them, how can a working-class woman turn down an all-expenses paid vacation for her husband and children? But everyone brings secrets to the island, distorting what should be a convivial, relaxing summer on the beach. Lisa sees danger everywhere—the local handyman can't be allowed near the children, and Lisa suspects Scott is fixated on something, or someone, else. Poppy watches over her husband John and his routines with a sharp eye. It's a summer of change for all of the children: Ryan Ford who prepares for college in the fall, Rae Daly who seethes on the brink of adulthood, and the two youngest, Kimmy Daly and Alex Ford, who are exposed to new ideas and different ways of life as they forge a friendship of their own. Those who return from this vacation will spend the rest of their lives trying to process what they witnessed, the tipping points, moments of violence and tenderness, and the memory of whom they left behind.

Deliverance at Cardwell Ranch & A Woman with a Mystery B. J. Daniels 2014-12-01 From a New York Times–bestselling author, two romantic suspense novels in one, featuring heroes who must unravel the pasts of the women they love. Deliverance at Cardwell Ranch When Deputy Sheriff Austin Cardwell rescues a woman in the worst blizzard to hit Big Sky, Montana, in years, it's only the beginning. The dark-haired beauty has no memory of who she is and who—or what—she was fleeing. But she's clearly terrified of the stranger who shows up at the hospital claiming to be her husband. From Cardwell Ranch to the snowy wilds of Idaho, Austin vows to uncover her true identity . . . before her violent past destroys any hope of a future together. A Woman with a Mystery Holly Barrows had raced into the arms of Slade Rawlins a year ago. Then she'd mysteriously vanished, only to return with an outrageous claim of a baby and kidnapping. Any baby she'd had would have been Slade's, and he was consumed by his need to protect Holly and locate their child before his family was lost . . . forever.

Daniels delivers another Cardwell Ranch keeper with a woman on the run...and the lawman sworn to keep her safe. When deputy sheriff Austin Cardwell rescues a woman in the worst blizzard in years, it's only the beginning. The dark-haired beauty has no memory of who she is and who—or what—she was fleeing. But she's terrified of the stranger who shows up at the hospital, claiming to be her husband. Convinced that the mystery woman is in grave danger, Austin refuses to let her out of his sight. As desire builds between them, she seems ready to trust him. From Cardwell Ranch to the snowy wilds of Idaho, Austin vows to uncover her identity...before her past destroys any hope of a future.

Rise Above the Truth Rebecca Thein 2014-08-14 Despite being a renowned mural artist, Misty finds herself in despair and lonely in bustling San Francisco. When she seeks comfort in Curt, the one person she trusts, the veil of grief starts to lift. The longtime friendship begins to grow into something more than Misty ever dreamed possible. However, Curt possesses a secret that threatens their deepening connection of love. All he can do is pray it will not destroy their promising future when he has no choice but to finally tell her the truth.

Lessons From The Mountain Rebecca Hendrickson All families are complicated, but the reason is typically not a mystery. Ever since the family reunion in the Adirondack Mountains two years ago, nothing has been the same. Annie, the middle sister is experiencing an acute episode of Postpartum Depression. The youngest sister, Cade, has moved to the South working at a school that resembles a trailer park, determined to succeed on her own adventure. Rye is a former teacher of the year working in a wealthy, litigious school district, who is always put together and organized until her father begins to deteriorate. Winnie's husband, Don, has become suddenly ill, both mentally and physically, and no doctor can provide an explanation. The family must watch Don's health decline while dealing with struggles of their own. In a book that exposes the challenges in the education and mental health systems, readers will also find themselves rooting for each character as they search for answers.

The Other House Rebecca Hooper Eastman 2007 Set in Walpole, N.H. in 1885, the story is based on the Hoopers of Rebecca Hooper Eastman's family.

Rebecca and the Rancher Isabella Kole 2020-10-26 Rebecca Long is now a widow, living in the Indianapolis suburbs with two small children to raise and the knowledge that her late husband left her deep in debt. Finally, she makes the decision to move to her aunt and uncle's Texas ranch, where they have offered to let her live in their guest house and help her restart her life. The children love the ranch, and Rebecca soon finds a job, keeping the books for the ranch of handsome neighbor Seth Warner. But as she begins to have feelings for the sexy rancher and he feels the same, she knows she can't move forward without a sign from her late husband. She never got the closure she needed and without that, she can't enter into a new relationship with Seth. Seth is a dominant, and that excites the young widow, but first, she must make up her mind to move on with her life, and something is holding her back. Publisher's Note: This western, contemporary romance is intended for adults only. It contains themes of second chance love, sensual scenes and power exchange.

[LOVE] RACHEL Rebecca M. Painter 2018-09-16 What happens when you discover that the person you admire, love and trust most of all has secretly discredited your integrity for most of your life—even on their deathbed? Rebecca Painter's frank, far-flung and often funny exploration of a painful mother-daughter relationship is for anyone challenged by hidden as well as open assaults on their character. To understand and heal her deep-rooted/lifelong trauma, the author transports readers across the Pacific to her mother's youth in the outback of 1920s New Zealand, and Rachel's fateful voyage to the Pacific Northwest in 1939. Did a telegraph error ruin her engagement to the man she called the love of her life? Why would she quickly marry an American cult leader, Rebecca's father, whose paranormal influence lingers after his untimely death? We witness the family's survival struggles, and Rebecca's challenges as an outsider attending an elite women's college—which resemble the barriers her mother faced in the British class system. Rebecca's dream of a scholarly career is deferred, but her prayers are answered by the chance to care for and be reconciled with her dying mother. [LOVE] RACHEL speaks of believable miracles, and--despite decades of soul-wrenching negative judgments--how personal integrity can be defended and empowered from within. "A gripping, haunting journey of forgiveness. Despite her mother's harsh judgments, Rebecca learns to love herself, have compassion for her mother...and comes to terms with their demons. Her memoir is a lyrical and intelligent page-turner and an inspiration." --Carole Mallory, actress, supermodel, author of Picasso's Ghost, Loving Mailer, and Flash "Rebecca Painter's wonderful memoir examines the compelling, dramatic and puzzling events of her mother's life, in her struggle to understand their fraught relationship.... As a daughter, I consider this to be more than just a great story. It is a truly important read about human relations." --Miriam Katin, artist, author of award-winning illustrated memoir We Are on Our Own and Letting It Go "A daringly honest, amazing account of a complex, always fascinating relationship." -- Lee J. Strauss, author of The First Language and Toward a Biology of Culture

Ryder Rebecca Brooke 2015-05-02 All you want is to be invisible... Ryder Harris has spent most of his adult life moving from one place to another. He learned a long time ago that people always let you down and the only person you can rely on is yourself. When Ryder's bike breaks down outside a small town, he's left with no choice but to hang around. Running from his past, hiding who he is usually easy. That's what he does. At least until the tough talking Ryann walks into his life and some of the secrets he thought he'd never reveal push him into the one thing he never wanted. To be seen.

Deja que el mundo exterior entre en el aula Rebecca Austin 2010-05-10 Niñas y niños aprenden mejor cuando lo que se les ofrece tiene sentido y les interesa. Pueden aprender música percutiendo con palos u otros objetos las rejas del colegio, o matemáticas basándose en los dibujos que han hecho de un bloque de apartamentos y de sus ventanas. También aprenden cuando exploran, trepan y construyen cosas juntos, al aire libre. Los trabajos aquí reunidos tratan de estrategias con las que los centros escolares pueden ofrecer a su alumnado experiencias más significativas, permitiéndoles conectar el aprendizaje de las aulas con otras vivencias y prácticas en el entorno natural, en sus domicilios, en la comunidad local y en el entorno rural más próximo. Cada capítulo explora un recurso del exterior y muestra sus posibilidades para mejorar la enseñanza y aprendizaje en las aulas. Se argumenta teóricamente la importancia educativa del entorno en la educación infantil y se ofrecen experiencias prácticas sobre las grandes posibilidades del mundo exterior para motivar y promover aprendizajes en estas edades. Se insiste en el valor de la vida cotidiana, de prestar atención a los aprendizajes que tienen lugar fuera de los centros en contextos más informales y menos reglados. Una mejor coordinación del trabajo que se realiza en los colegios, en el hogar y en otros espacios comunitarios contribuye a una mejor educación de niños y niñas y, por tanto, a que esos mundos no sean percibidos como excluyentes. Personalidades como Richard Bailey, Jonathan Barnes, Gina Donaldson, Gill Hope, Sue Hammond, Trisha Maynard, Alan Peacock, Ian Pickup, Ian Shirley, Helen Taylor, Terry Whyte y Jane Williams-Siegfredsen, junto con Rebecca Austin, muestran experiencias reales de cómo facilitar la conexión entre el mundo exterior y los recursos disponibles en los centros.

Barely Breathing Rebecca Donovan 2013 Although Emma Thomas's secret abusive home life has been exposed and her tormentor eliminated, she is still haunted by her experience, and must learn to reclaim her life Debt to Society Joe Krogman 2011-07-01 On August 13, 1983, ten-year-old Rebecca Torgerson went missing from her mobile home in Austin, Minnesota. Christmas eve of that year her body was found in a dumpster behind a Minneapolis discount store. Rebecca's mother and boyfriend were tracked down out-of-state, arrested and extradited to Minnesota. Both entered guilty pleas and were sentenced to life without parole. Case closed? End of story? Not even close.

Once Upon a Lie Rebecca Taylor 2023-03-23 Mia Strauss is trying to be a good mother. She's worked hard to build a stable life since losing her memory at eighteen when the assailant, who shot and killed her famous father, pushed her from the third-story landing of their gold coast mansion. But lately, Mia is losing control and feels she's being watched wherever she goes. The eyes...they are everywhere. She is trying to keep herself together and is taking more and more of her prescription drugs to quiet the rising panic and anxiety. But when her husband, Alexander, comes home to find her face down on their living room floor, she'll need to make some drastic changes, or risk losing her girls. Alexander Strauss, neuropsychologist and professor at Columbia University, can no longer trust his wife. Her behavior and moods have grown evermore erratic since the birth of their twin girls six years ago. She has lost too much weight, covers herself from head to toe in only black clothing, and has removed every mirror from their home. She has a cadre of doctors that supply plenty of medications but don't help her make any progress. She has become a danger to herself, and their children. It has long been believed that Mia will never be able to remember her life prior to the assault, but Alexander has other ideas. Based on her recent brain images, and the things she says in her sleep, Alexander is confident Mia's continued amnesia is purely psychological. Whatever the reason, she doesn't want to remember. He gives her an ultimatum, either she gets real help, or he'll leave her and take the girls. Desperate to save her marriage and keep her family intact, Mia signs up for one of the few therapies she's never tried before—an experimental treatment that hypothesizes psilocybin may help traumatized patients process and recover their forgotten lives. But as Mia makes progress and her history begins to take shape, it becomes apparent that those closest to Mia never want her to remember what happened that night. And they'll do whatever it takes to stop the truth from being uncovered.

Beastia Zoe Cruz 2017-03-10 The meanest of mean girls, Rebekah Austin rules her Chicago school with sharp outfits and an even sharper tongue. She has a way of making even the most beautiful and brilliant girls in her class feel like dirt. But underneath the queen-bee facade is someone who feels ugly, repulsive...bestly. When Rebekah falls prey to a madman, the bully becomes the bullied. Scarred and tormented, she abandons her previous life and adopts a new identity, but her ghastly appearance haunts her everywhere she goes. Only with the help of determined friends can she move past her horrifying experience—and maybe even let herself be loved. And if the madman returns to finish what he started, will she be ready, or will she give up hope?

Letting the Outside In Rebecca Austin 2007 Children learn best when their learning makes sense to them. This book is for early childhood educators who want to provide opportunities for the children to learn in ways that make rich and relevant connections to their lives, experiences, and interests outside of the classroom. Each chapter explores a different aspect of the outside that can be brought into children's experiences in schools—whether in country or inner city spaces. The principles underpinning the importance of the outside environment in children's learning and development are related to ways of using spaces outside the classroom for learning. But the book is also about allowing children's daily lives into the classroom so that their families and communities contribute to school life and that what children learn and experience outside school is recognised and valued within it. This book is for all early childhood educators who seek to know and understand the children and communities they are working with and want to make learning as exciting and relevant as possible for children. It will be of interest to all who work with young children. Contributors include: Richard Bailey, Jonathan Barnes, Gina Donaldson, Sue Hammond, Trisha Maynard, Ian Pickup, Ian Shirley, Helen Taylor, Rosemary Walters, Jane Williams-Siegfriedson and Terry White.

Schadenfreude, A Love Story Rebecca Schuman 2017-02-07 "This book is a wild and wonderful ride. Your guide, Rebecca Schuman, is a super-smart and very funny person who writes brilliantly about Germany and Germans (who are not what you think) and being young and insane and life in general and... just read it, OK?" -Dave Barry Sometimes Love Gets Lost in Translation You know that feeling you get watching the elevator doors slam shut just before your toxic coworker can step in? Or seeing a parking ticket on a Hummer? There's a word for this mix of malice and joy, and the Germans (of course) invented it. It's Schadenfreude, deriving pleasure from others' misfortune. Misfortune happens to be a specialty of Slate columnist Rebecca Schuman—and this is great news for the Germans. For Rebecca adores the Vaterland with the kind of single-minded passion its Volk usually reserve for beer, soccer, and being right all the time. Let's just say the affection isn't mutual. Schadenfreude is the story of a teenage Jewish intellectual who falls in love – in love with a boy (who breaks her heart), a language (that's nearly impossible to master), a culture (that's nihilistic, but punctual), and a landscape (that's breathtaking when there's not a wall in the way). Rebecca is an everyday, misunderstood 90's teenager with a passion for Pearl Jam and Ethan Hawke circa Reality Bites, until two men walk into her high school Civics class: Dylan Gellner, with deep brown eyes and an even deeper soul, and Franz Kafka, hitching a ride in Dylan's backpack. These two men are the axe to the frozen sea that is Rebecca's spirit, and what flows forth is a passion for all things German. First love might be fleeting, but Kafka is forever, and in pursuit of this elusive passion Rebecca will spend two decades stuttering and stumbling through German sentences, trying to win over a people who can't be bothered. At once a snapshot of a young woman finding herself, and a country slowly starting to stitch itself back together after nearly a century of war (both hot and cold), Schadenfreude, A Love Story is an exhilarating, hilarious, and yes, maybe even heartfelt memoir proving that sometimes the truest loves play hard to get.

Letting Outside in Rebecca Austin 2014-09-16 Children learn best when what they are learning makes sense to them. This book is for early years practitioners who want to provide opportunities for children to learn in ways which make rich and relevant connections to their lives, experiences and interests outside of the classroom.

Above All Rebecca Brooks 2018-07-20 Reeling from a sudden breakup, Casey Webb leaves Brooklyn, drives north, and settles in a sleepy mountain town in upstate New York. She's convinced she's happy being alone—until she reads the acknowledgments in her ex-boyfriend's hit debut novel, thanking his new girlfriend "above all." Good thing Ben Mailer is in town. The hot, young Brooklyn-bound chef offers the perfect distraction. Soon the backwoods are heating up... But as their fling turns into more, the demands of Ben's family and budding career make moving to her idyllic town impossible. Now Casey must decide what she can't live without—her life in the mountains, or the man she wants to be hers above all...

Out of Breath Rebecca Donovan 2013 Out of Breath by Rebecca Donovan is the much-anticipated, explosive and stunning finale in The Breathing Series. Reason to Breathe and Barely Breathing, the first two books in the trilogy, are both US bestsellers. All fans of Jodi Picoult and new adult authors such Colleen Hoover, Tammara Webber and Abbi Glines will love Rebecca Donovan's incredible writing. A must-read. Those she trusted betrayed her. Her broken heart still wounds her. Only love can save her. Emma can't even think about trusting others in her life again. She can't let anyone in, not when she knows all they'll find is darkness. But some people won't let go; won't take no for an answer and Emma has to decide whether the hidden truths and painful secrets are enough to let go of the possibility of love. Forever.

Aloha Love Yvonne Lehman (Deceased) 2012-03-01 Jane wants a big adventure before she settles down. Jane Buckley is engaged to Texas oil baron Austin Price. But before settling down, she jumps at the chance of a voyage to Hawaii with her exuberant aunt Matilda. The adventure in paradise becomes more than a series of spectacular views and beautiful beaches. Jane begins to question her own faith and character. Is her desire to help a man and child creating an experience that will jeopardize her relationship with Austin? Rancher Mak MacCauley is mad at God and the world. He cannot escape the haunting memories of his young wife's death until he takes revenge upon the horse that killed her. There's no room in his life for another woman, and he allows Jane Buckley near him only because of his daughter's needs and the engagement ring on Jane's finger that means she won't pursue him. The Hawaiian word for love, aloha, is used in both greeting and farewell. But given the opportunity to experience true love, will Jane and Mak welcome it, or will they allow fear to drive it away?

Where We Belong Lynn Austin 2017-10-03 The Adventure of a Lifetime for Two Indomitable Socialite Sisters In the city of Chicago in 1892, the rules for Victorian women are strict, their roles limited. But sisters Rebecca and Flora Hawes are not typical Victorian ladies. Their love of adventure and their desire to use their God-given talents has brought them to the Sinai Desert—and into a sandstorm. Accompanied by Soren Petersen, their somber young butler, and Kate Rafferty, a street urchin who is learning to be their ladies' maid, the two women are on a quest to find an important biblical manuscript. As the journey becomes more dangerous and uncertain, the four travelers sift through memories of their past, recalling the events that shaped them and the circumstances that brought them to this time and place.

The Unlikely Wife Cassandra Austin 2011-07-15 She'd Grown Up In Frontier Forts, so if she couldn't handle a harmless kiss with a soldier, who could? Rebecca Huntington blithely declared. But she hadn't planned on her heart being captured by the likes of officer Clark Forrester, a gentleman whose "casual" kisses were anything but! If Lieutenant Clark Forrester wasn't careful, he would find himself marching down the aisle with Rebecca Huntington. And while a woman who could ride astride, beat him at chess and unnerve him just by deepening her dimples was a fascinating pastime, wooing the boss's daughter and a court-martial could go hand in hand!
